BEST INTERIOR DESIGNER

David Heide Design Studio

David Heide claims that the challenges found in renovating many older homes in Saint Paul "are the most fun parts of the project." The goal, he says, is to leave a completed project looking as though their team hadn't been there at all, with a solution that won't be dated in 10 years. "It's important to pay attention to the original house," says Heide. The studio works on approximately 12 to 15 projects in Saint Paul each year. 301 Fourth Ave. S., Mpls.; 612.337.5060; dhdstudio.com

BEST BUILDER/REMODELER

Castle Building & Remodeling

"I love older houses, and I think that our company is good at working on projects that have a timeless quality," says owner Loren Schirber, who took over the business from his father in 2007, and since has been busy expanding their footprint in the community. "We have designers on staff who are wonderful to work with, and we're able to guarantee all of our work," Schirber says. 362 Snelling Ave. S.; 651.699.4164; castlebri.com

Kids, Family & Pets

BEST PRESCHOOL/CHILDCARE

St. Paul's Childhood Center

Tina Gatzke, executive director, says there are many features that make SPCC, which celebrated 45 years in September, a special place. "Our approaches are family-centered, and our curriculum projections emerge from the interest of our students," she says. "Parents love the warmth and sense of community at our school, but more than anything commit to the investment of sending their children here because of the relationships our faculty build with children and families." SPCC serves children ages 6 weeks to 12 years. 900 Summit Ave.; 651.224.4749; mysppcc.com

RUNNERS-UP: St. Paul Jewish Community Center, Dodge Nature Preschool
