PERIOD DETAILS

The homeowners wished to create a family-friendly kitchen that honored the original feel of their 1906 St. Paul home. Warm wood tones and vintage-inspired fixtures fill the bill.

GOING UP

Cabinets extending to the ceiling maximize storage. Now items that are used only occasionally can still have a home in the kitchen. The red birch cabinetry offers a rich, welcoming look.

PRETTY IN MINI

Miniature subway tile—1×2 inches—adds visual variety by breaking up the expanse of wood cabinetry in the room. The slate appearance and colors of the tile lend rustic character to the kitchen.

EARTHY ELEGANCE

Cabinetry-matching panels cover the range hood, continuing the natural feel of the kitchen. A pot filler adds convenience.

TIMELESS CHARM

A deep farmhouse sink makes it easy to clean large pots, pans, and serving dishes. The pristine white sink paired with an ornamental faucet amplifies the room's vintage look.

CLEVER DISGUISE

To keep the focus on the room's historical design, the dishwasher and refrigerator are dressed in cabinetry-matching panels.

SPACE AT WORK

Placed next to the window, a built-in desk enjoys natural light. The compact workstation is outfitted with open shelving and a bulletin board to help the family stay organized.

SHOW IT OFF

Glass-front cabinetry offers room for display. Adjustable shelves can accommodate large or distinctive pieces, making it easy to update the look to match the season.

TRENDY TRANSITION

Double arches form a mock hallway to the 100-square-foot breakfast area, which borrows style cues from the kitchen.

BONUS STORAGE

File cabinets and drawers are hidden from view under the banquette. Opposite the refrigerator, an appliance garage conceals a microwave.
